His messenger to Juarez returned to-day, having made the trip to Matamoras, San Luis Potosi, and back in filteen days, romaining at San Luis two days. He was treated with the greatest courtesy and consideration. The Liberals report that Escobedo had 35,000 men at Queratora, and were in possession of all the roads but one, with an expectation of obtaining that soon. Maximilian was inside, with 15,000. The feeling against Maximilian was very bitter, and his native officers feared that he would not be able to save them in case of capture.

Juarez and his Generals were confident of a speedy triumpi at Querretare, and expect to be in the city of Mexico in two months. The messenger left Juarez at San Luis on the 23d.

Editor Daily News: I ask a small space in your columns to call attention to a few facts with reforence to the distribution of corn among the indigent of our country which seem to have escaped the notice of those who have initiated measures for relief. Contrary to the usual aim of philantic contractions of the seem thought repeasant to aid throphy; it has been thought necessary to aid is a mistake to suppose it solely important to con-for charity upon such, while a large and respect-able working class, upon whose energies and ultithem, makes not paramount importance that their sufferings be relieved as speedily as possible. Mr. Redding has at heart, it would seem, the English laws of divorce, especially those which obtained in the case of Mrs. Yelverton, the last being the objects of his scorn and satire.

"The Life of Carl Ritter," by W. L. Gage, published by C. aries Seribner & Co., is an interesting piece of biography devoted to the person I history and scientific career of one of the most eminent geographers of the age. Apart from his labors in his special department of intellectual activity, his life presents an attractive example of the almost childish simplicity and modesty, the profound sense of religion, and the devotion to studious research, which distinguishes so many German scholars of the past generation. The volume also abounds in agrocable illustrations of the social, and domestic life of Germany, and though written in a losse and inaccurate style, its fresh and almost enthusiastic tone gives it a certain charm, and forms an iofiset to its numerous faults of literary execution.

A sitting of both Houses takes place to-day.
A council of the Prussian ministers, under the presidency of the King, met in Berlin April 29.
The Grown Prince and the members of the military and civil cabinets were present. A court dinner was subsequently given in honor of the birth-day of the Czar of Russia.

In the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies Herr van Forkenbeck opened the session with three cheers for the King.

The formation of the committees was then proceeded with.

The Peace of Europe.

The following is the cable news, in detail, of the the results of the European Peace Congress on the Luxemburg question, the substance of which was published on Saturday morning:

Loxnox, May 9.—The representatives of the great powers commissioned to the Peace Congress in this city, re-assembled in session this afternoon, after the adjournment which took place on Tuesday, and continued over Wednesday. The second meeting has proved a success with reference to the difficult and important subject which the plenipotentiaries have been called upon to treat, as between France and Prussia. The Grand Duchy of Luxemburg and Holland.

The question is sottled in favor of peace.

By the recorded minutes of the Congress, Luxemburg remains under the ruly of the King of Holland. The neutralization of the territory of Holland. The neutralization of the territory of the Grand Duch will be guaranteed by the great powers of Europe. The fortrees of Luxemburg will be evacuated by the Prussian troops, and razed to the ground. Not troops will be retained within the territory of Luxemburg oxcept a force which may be necessary by maintain order and preserve the peace.

The pressure which was exerted on the pienipotentiaries in the Congress by the defant stitlude which the opposing powers—France and Prussiamanianian toward cach other, combined with the knowledge which the members had of the great war proparations which were being carried on on the continent, led to a very speedy act on the part of the conference representatives.

There now remain merely the official and executive details of the proceedings to be actiled, which will be done in due form and speedily. This treaty of settlement, which vill, of course, be properly named and entitled, will be signed on Friday or Saturday noxt.

in fact, field yet been signed, but there remained no doubt that the peace of Europe had been practically secured.

Londow, slay 9.—The House of Commons assembled this ovening, Mr. Labouchers alluded to the Peace Congress ingoliations, and it quired if the English Government intended to quarantee the neurality of Luxenburg without first taking the opinion of Parliamant on such an important subject and so serious an official proceeding?

Lord Stanley, foreign scoreary, replying on behalf of the cabinet, said the members of the Peace Conference had met in session for the second time to-day, and although he could not at present enter into a detail of the proceedings, he might report that a substantial arrangement had been arrived at in the conference or all the matters in dispute, so that an amicable settlement of the Luxemburg question was practically realized at this moment. [Lond cheers followed the announcement.]

Lord Steinley proceeded to say that he congratulated the House of Commons, and congratulated the Joune of Commons, and congratulated the country at large, on the fact that the good sense and moderation of the powers primarily interested as parties in the Luxemburg difficulty had had the effect of arresting the unspeakable clamitties which would ensue to the people from a European war.

[For the Crescent.]

To the Critices of Marion District:
As I am aware that public opinion is, 40 some extent, disposed to condemn my course in my recent resignation of office, I feel that it is due both to myself, and to those who have placed me in a position of public trust and confidence, to explain to them my reasons for relinquishing the duties they have confided to me.

In the first place, in common with a large majority of our citizems. I have no other means of maintaining iny family than my individual labors.

Under catisting orders and regulations which operate in this histrict, so as to shut off almost the whole income of the office, I cannot now obtain that support in the capacity of sheriff. In addition to this, the laws of the State require the She. iff to make continual outlays, in providing for the support and counfort of the prisoners under his charge, and in meeting other incidental expenses, for whigh he is to ex reimbursed as the end of each year.

I am now unable to afford these continual con-

year.

I am now onable to afford these outlays from my private means, and owing to the cause above stated, they cannot be supplied from the revenues of the office. I am thus left totally unable to discharge some of my most important duties; and in attempting to do so under exiting circumstances, it might seriously involve both myself, and my official securities.

I migat scriously involve both myself and my official sccurities.

I trust that I fully appreciate, and I know that I will ever fomember with pride and gratitude, the confidence and esteem of my follow-citizens, as exhibited in typice deciting me to a post of high public trust and responsibility; but justice to them said to myself demands that I should surronder my charge when circumstances beyond my control have rendered me unable to execute it.

Yery Respectfully, N. O. McDUFFIE.
